A PAINFUL INQUIRY

SALEM, Oct. 14, 1880.

[To the Editor] of the Oregonian:

[illegible] of legislation are blocked, the repre[sentatives] [illegible] the people wander listlessly up and [down the] halls and stare vacantly at the [illegible] unconscious of the magnitude [illegible] majority resting on their shoul[ders] [illegible] of long acquaintance and intimate [illegible] pass and re-pass each other [illegible] slightest sign of recognition, and amid [illegible] there goes up one continual [illegible] where is that column of 'Pointed [illegible]?'"

[illegible] representatives can work industri[ously] [illegible] undergo the physical hardship [illegible] sleep and endure the excruciat[ing] [illegible] hunger without a single un[illegible] but when they are deprived of their [illegible] of mirth provoking "329 Pointed [illegible]," it goes way beyond the pos[sibility of] [illegible] endurance.

[illegible] upon the arrival of the Standard every [illegible] attention to legislative matters would [illegible] members would leave their seats [illegible] the sergeant-at-arms desk to get [illegible] the speaker would leave his chair and [illegible] group, while the old hall would [illegible] shouts of laughter, provoked by the [illegible] of those "329" paragraphs. [illegible] that the result of the Indiana election [illegible] paragraphs in the bud. Can you [illegible] in the interest of a suffering legislature [illegible] column?

T. T. G.

[illegible] on Hancock's Pledge.

[From a recent Speech in Illinois.]

[illegible] to the American people that he will [illegible] that the party may pass for the pay [illegible] claims. How did he ever come to [illegible] the party would pass such a law? [illegible] and prolonged applause.] Garfield has [illegible] that he will veto a law to pay [illegible]. It is not a little strange that the [illegible] to certify to his party. [Laughter.] [illegible] As a rule, in this country, [illegible] always certified to the candidate [illegible] Hancock think it necessary to certify to [illegible] because he knew it is bad [illegible] really thought the American people [illegible] in him than in the democratic [illegible] he steps to the front and says [illegible] I will not allow these rebel claims [illegible] I will now allow these rebel [illegible] in power—I will not allow them to [illegible] I don't want.' [Laughter and ap[plause]] [illegible] laughter.] I admit they are bad. Look at [illegible] between this hungry horde and the [illegible] I promise to throw the shield of [illegible] He says, 'Ladies and gentlemen I [illegible] from this party.' [Laughter.] All I [illegible] is to make me president and [illegible] protect you and let them go to the devil [illegible] General Hancock might die. From [illegible] then? Mr English. Death is never [illegible] good president in the United States yet [illegible] always made a frightful mistake. [Laugh[ter and] applause.] Read the letter of acceptance [illegible] Mr English, and tell me whether you are [illegible] trust that man. Read his history—a man [illegible] nothing but loan money, take deeds of [illegible] the liberty and pursuits of happi[ness] [illegible] people and then foreclose the deed.

THE FIELD OF POLITICS.

THE SMOKE OF TUESDAY'S CONFLICT CLEARING

And the Result is that the Democratic Party is Badly Shattered—A Panicky Effort to Reconstruct their Lines.

Stingy Bill English made the Scapegoat for the Defeat in Indiana.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

More Figures from Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14—The republicans [illegible] have returns from 81 [illegible] counties which show republican gains of [illegible] and democratic gains of 6,91[illegible]. The net republican gains for Townsend, secretary of state, is 7,718. At the democratic headquarters the returns have been gathered from various sources, so that now all the counties have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gains for Lang, secretary of state, are 8061; gains for Townsend, republican, are 1144, net democratic gain [illegible]341.

The Ohio Majorities.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15—Townsend's majority will be about 10,000 and others on the ticket about 22,000. Those are the exact figures predicted by Foster on Tuesday evening. Townsend ran behind his ticket because of the opposition of liquor men and because he was traded.

Ohio Congressional Majorities

CINCINNATI, Oct. 15—Following are unofficial majorities of congressmen in Ohio so far as obtained: Second district, Young, rep, 1007; third district, Morey, rep, 904; fourth district, Schultz, rep, 350; sixth district, Ritchie, rep, 694; eighth district, Keifer, rep, 5900; ninth district, Robinson, rep, 1100; tenth district, Rice, rep, 1287; eleventh district, Neal, rep, 2300; thirteenth district, Atherton, dem, 2700; fifteenth district, Dawes, rep, 342; twentieth district, Townsend, rep, 2240.

A Little more from Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14—Additional returns this morning do not change the estimate given yesterday on the state ticket. Peele, republican for congress in the 7th district, is elected. Congressional delegation stands: Republican, 8; democratic, 5.

Possibly another Congressman Gained in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15—It is now certain that the republicans gain the 5th congressional district and possibly elect their man in the 12th, making nine or 10 out of the 13 congressmen.

Latest Figures from Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15—Returns from all but four counties give a republican majority of 3797. The counties to hear from gave a democratic majority in 1876 of 413.

Business and Politics.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—The Public's table shows the aggregate exchanges for the week outside of New York to be $245,377,155, which is larger than for any week since May. It says the high water marks of last year are getting covered month after month and the shrinking in prices fails to prevent an increase in the volume of business in almost every city. The Public says it is stated that the republicans in the stock exchange outnumber the democrats this year in the ratio of nearly 3 to 1. The fact that many men who have hitherto voted the democratic ticket have joined republican clubs makes the democratic members particularly sore and irritated.

Religion and Politics.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14—At the Rock River Methodist conference, this morning, a dispatch was received announcing a great republican victory in Indiana and the conference became wild with excitement and sung the doxology. Dr. Luke Hitchcock said, they would be criticised for this demonstration, but he believed it was an escape from civil war, and he felt that this religious assembly should lift its heart in praise to God in the use of that glorious doxology. Amen, amen. One thing clearly indicated by the returns is the insignificance of the greenback party and the loss they have sustained everywhere.

They Meet to Mourn.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—The democratic national executive committee was in session this afternoon. Among the members present were Senator Barnum and Messrs. Scott of Penn., Smalley of Vermont, Dewitt of New York, Barnes of Georgia and Cleveland of New Jersey. The result of the October elections and prosecution of the campaign are, it is understood, subjects under consideration.

What Garfield's Neighbors Think of the Unfounded Charges.

The Tribune prints the following telegram received yesterday and comments thereon:

MENTOR, Ohio, Oct. 14.

To Whitelaw Reid, 27 Lexington Avenue—The five counties comprising Garfield's congressional district go republican by a majority of 12,757, a gain of 1608 over Foster's majority in 1879. The vote of Tuesday was the largest which the district has polled in 17 years. Tell this to the mud slingers. [Signed]

D. E. SWAIN.

As it happened this dispatch was delivered at the dinner table at which sat three members of the democratic national committee and two of its ex-chairmen. To their honor be it said a democrat was first to express his personal gratification at the vindication, and every one at the table joined in a cordial assent.

Democrats Panic Stricken.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—The democrats are panic stricken over the effect of the free trade plank in their platform as demonstrated on Tuesday. Duncan S. Walker's committee has gone out hunting up republican speeches on the tariff question in their effort to discover something that will stultify party leaders if possible. It is reported that it is their intention to publish garbled extracts of republican speeches on the subject in congress for circulation in back counties among the ignorant classes.

Driven to Extremity for Comfort.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—The Post this morning devotes a long dismal editorial to tariff issues for the time. Hutchins professes to be ready to accept the tariff issue for the rest of the campaign and makes a painful effort to show that the democrats will gain by it, because while they will lose New Jersey, Connecticut and other eastern states, they will carry Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin for free trade. While the argument is simply ludicrous, it demonstrates to what extremity the democracy is driven for comfort.

Registration in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—Registration to-day 72,637; total for two days, 145,400, against 80,054 the first two days last year. There were 17 arrests of persons attempting to register on 1863 papers.

Possibly not so Solid after all.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—The republican national executive committee have decided to direct their efforts to carrying Florida, North Carolina and Virginia.

Bill Marked it "Collect"

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—English did a characteristic thing yesterday. He telegraphed a long message to the democratic national committee giving the reasons the democracy were defeated in Indiana, declaring they would carry the state in November and marking on the bottom of the dispatch "collect." One committeeman remarked "that's Bill English all over."

Hancock as Mark Tapley.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—Hancock had several callers yesterday. He expressed no discouragement at the result in Indiana and seemed in his usual buoyant spirits. Chairman Barnum of the national democratic committee had a conference with him in the evening.

The South and its Relation to Politics.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—The Times Washington special says: The south is now regarded with curiosity. Republicans are debating a course upon some of the possible southern states. Northern democrats would not be sorry, if they are to lose the election, to have the south divided. Then, the northern bourbons say, there will be some chance for making inroads in the north. Virginia republicans are preparing for the contest with renewed energy. Said a southern man to-day: "If the south did not so hate Garfield there might be a break, but none of us have any faith that he would do anything for us." The Grant Garfield compact is now an unquestioned political fact. The Grant people take all the credit of the republican tidal wave.

THE FIELD REVIEWED.

Probability that the Republicans will again Control Both Houses of Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—At republican headquarters to-day Congressman Jorgensen and several other prominent Virginia republicans had a long interview with Chairman Hubbell. They think that Virginia is good fighting ground for the republicans now with the prestige of Tuesday's elections added to the alleged irreparable breaches in the democratic party in the state. It is an open secret that it is the intention of the republican managers to make good use of the time left between now and Nov. in Virginia. The report current that an alliance between Gen. Mahone and the republicans is being negotiated is not known at republican headquarters to be a fact. The republican congressional committee are confident that several republican congressmen will be gained in the south. Two districts at least are expected in Virginia, and the district now represented by Acklin of Louisiana is also claimed. A gain of one is expected in Tennessee. These anticipated gains together with those already made in Oregon, Ohio and Indiana, will it is claimed, be more than sufficient to give the republicans control of the next house of representatives. If the republicans have secured control of the Indiana legislature, there is a possibility that the United States senate in 1881 will be equally divided politically and that the vice president will have the casting vote. In the senate as now constituted the democrats have 43 members and the republicans 33. The senators whose terms expire in states where there is likely to be a political change in succession are Bruce, Kellogg, Herman, McDonald, Randolph, Thurman, Wallace [illegible]. [illegible] expectations be realized the senate after the 4th of March next will consist of 38 democrats and 38 republicans. Viewed in this light the election of a republican legislature in Indiana which will send [illegible] as successor to McDonald [illegible]. In this calculation Davis of Illinois is credited to the democrats. Should he act with the republicans that party would again be in full possession practically of the senate. It is [illegible] probable however that Judge Davis will identify himself with the republican side of the house. The entrance of Mr. Fair with his huge barrel into the contest for United States senator in Nevada [illegible] as throwing doubt upon the political [illegible] in that state. [illegible] will undoubtedly act with the democrats on all national questions.

The General Result Summed Up

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—There is nothing later from either Ohio or Indiana except the more [illegible] dispatches. The net result of Tuesday's elections is [illegible] doubt that [illegible] republican [illegible] which will [illegible] 20,000 [illegible] in the state legislature [illegible] about 400 [illegible] democrats [illegible] republican [illegible] United States senator is assured [illegible] generally show large republican gains. The [illegible] largely in Garfield's district.

In Indiana the republican majority [illegible] 12,000 [illegible] half [illegible] favorable than earlier ones. The republicans have certainly elected the legislature [illegible] have 8 and probably [illegible], a republican gain of 3. They will elect a republican successor to Senator McDonald. The chief cities and towns are strongly republican, as are the large manufacturing districts where the tariff question told heavily to advantage of the republicans. Porter ran about 1000 ahead of his ticket [illegible] the personal unpopularity of Landers and his own popularity. Republicans say the victory is due to their [illegible] organization, agitation of the tariff question, [illegible] the unpopularity of the democratic nominees and excellent character of the republican ticket. Democrats faintly claim fraud but are evidently used up, completely having lost everything they claimed and fought for. The election was very fairly won, there being no fraud to speak of and perfect peace at the polls. The republicans are fairly boiling over with joy and there is rejoicing in every store and workshop.

Chairman Hubbell now considers Virginia, North Carolina and Florida hopeful and attributes the result to fear of democratic ascendency and its effect on business. Garfield would he said get 10,000 more votes in Ohio than the republican majority this election.

Indiana returns by precincts now in comprise about half the state and indicate a plurality for Porter of 8000. Nothing has been received from Crawford, Perry or Dubois counties.

MIGHTY FUSSY READIN'.

The Democratic Committee Issue an Address in which they say "Fraud of '76" and "Gettysburg" and "U. S. Marshals" and Things.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—The national democratic executive committee met to-day and issued the following:

To democratic and conservative voters of the country: The election of president is now before you. State and local dissensions are distracting from the issues of the day. The magnitude of victory or defeat can only be estimated by the ends and means employed in securing it. By fraud and corruption the people of the country were defeated in their purposes in '76, and the rightfully elected president was kept from office. With the combined capital of the republican party aided by repeated assessments upon an army of officeholders, with the power of the federal government represented by United States marshals at the polls with intimidation, fraud and resort to every corrupt appliance known to republican methods concentrated in two states, our adversaries have succeeded in procuring the probable return of their local candidates. Can it be possible that in every state throughout this broad land the same methods can be brought to bear that were used by the republican managers in Indiana and Ohio? Can the great states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Colorado, Nevada and New Hampshire be bought, intimidated and defrauded? Even without the vote of Indiana, which we believe will be redeemed in November with New York, New Jersey and states that are already conceded to us, including Maine, the election of our candidates is assured. The republican party have put in nomination for president men who by the admission of their own party and press are unworthy of your confidence and your suffrages. It is impossible that fifty million intelligent and patriotic people will consent to place themselves upon the humiliated level this prepared for them by republican managers. Fellow citizens, the first day's result at Gettysburg ended on the third with Hancock in front in glorious victory and secured us our union. The question is not now the preservation of the union but of constitutional government. Hancock is now as then in the front. Repulse is now, as then an omen of victory which will secure the coming generation the inestimable blessings of civil liberty.

By order national democratic committee.

W. H. BARNUM, Chairman.

"AVARICIOUS, INCOMPETENT AND UNPOPULAR,"

That's the Way Bill English's Compatriots Talk about him.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—The Herald publishes an Indianapolis special giving interviews with several prominent democrats, in which they say their defeat was caused by the unpopularity of English and Landers.

Fleming, state treasurer, a defeated candidate for re-election, attempts no concealment of his disgust with English. He says: "This has been the worst managed campaign on the democratic side in the history of that state, and English has proved himself to be miserably inefficient and utterly incompetent, that he has been outgeneraled at every point, that his personal unpopularity lost many hundreds of votes and that he has never had the state properly polled nor organized the democrats in any way. Frank Landers ascribes his defeat to English's stupidity, stinginess and mismanagement of the canvass, but that's all bosh. Landers isn't fit to govern."

Gen. John Love, of the state house boards, says: "The loss of Indiana is due to incompetence, avarice and unpopularity of English." He says the latter cannot comprehend his position because the only thing that could annoy him is the loss of a little money.

State House Commissioner Nelson is equally severe on English and lays all the blame on him for the loss of the state.

Secretary of State Shanklin, who was defeated for reelection, is boiling over with rage and the mere mention of English's name fairly throws him into paroxysms of anger. He refers to English tenderly as a "hog" and a brute.

Gen. M. P. Manson, state auditor, another of the victims, boils over with choice profanity and blames English for all the trouble in the most forcible expletives he can command.

Colonel Gray, nominee for Lieutenant governor, says Landers was a dead weight to carry, but that the state could have been carried but for English. He uses bad words in talking of the latter and also blames McDonald and Voorhees for his (English's) nomination. Gray pronounces English a "base fraud."

Deputy Sec'y of State Peele, says that English lost Indiana for the democrats and thinks he ought to retire.

Hendricks is said to have declared to-day that English ought to withdraw at once. He professes to believe that if English withdraws Hancock can carry the vote of the state.

Gossip about English's Withdrawal.

The Herald's Indianapolis correspondent says: In respect of the withdrawal I can give you gossip only. Messrs. Hurlburt and Waterbury remained until this afternoon an extraordinary fact unless there was something up. A prominent citizen and long life democrat says: "There was a meeting last night to consider the plan of putting Hendricks in English's place. The friends of Hendricks say his record was as good in June as it is now. Mrs. Hendricks says the Governor shall not accept. English says he won't have the chance for he (English) would not go off. He will go down with the ship, and I guess he will."

THE LEGISLATURE AND ITS WORK.

SALEM, Oct. 15, 1880.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Notwithstanding what may be said about the desirableness of their being little work done by the legislature, it is very certain that the people of Oregon do not wish to have all the expense that is incurred by a session without having the measures that are most important and needful attended to.

The state senate is a fine body of men. They are intelligent, industrious, honest men far above the average. The democrats in the senate especially are very superior to what we are taught to expect of the ordinary democrat. The republicans are many of them, men of whom any state might be proud and yet this body of wise men have shown a disposition to dodge the issues before them and sneak around a question which ought to be taken up fairly and dealt with manfully. In order to kill what is known as the Insane Bill they have deferred the order of business which would bring up the bills from the house thereby keeping any of the many important house bills from being passed and endeavored to avoid a question which every one can see very plainly they do not wish to attack openly.

It would seem to an outsider that high minded, broad thinking far seeing statesmen ought to see farther than mere local interests. The local jealousy which exists between the people of Portland and Salem especially is very short-sighted and very despicable. Is it not for the good of the people of Salem and vicinity that the interests of their great commercial city be advanced as far as possible? On the other hand is it not for the best interests of the city of Portland that its state capital be a thriving, populous prosperous city, one that shall do honor to our rising state and not disgrace us by a broken down and dilapidated appearance which would not speak well for the prosperity of our people?

The action of the legislative assembly will be criticised and compared with the preceding ones which have been democratic and we greatly fear they will lose by comparison in the minds of a [illegible] present course of petty and selfish quarreling over what questions shall come up continues while the pay of the clerks [illegible] between Messrs. A. and B. as to whether this [illegible] it all.

If the republicans wish to keep the ground they have gained in this state would it not be far more noble better in every way to sink petty local questions out of sight [illegible] questions of the good of the whole [illegible]. If our majority wants the insane asylum at Portland then it ought to be. If on the other hand the [illegible] could be more economically [illegible]

Messrs. W. J. [illegible] and J. P. Blanchard and Tom Brown of Oregon City killed two of the largest [illegible] that has been seen in that vicinity [illegible]. After its head had been cut off and [illegible] roughly dressed, it weighed 175 pounds.

SPEECH OF GENERAL GRANT,

AT WARREN, OHIO, SEPT. 28, 1880

In view of the known character and ability of the speaker who is to address you to-day and his long public career and association with the leading statesmen of the country for the past twenty years it would not be becoming in me to detain you with many remarks of my own. But it may be proper for me to account to you on the first occasion of my presiding at a political meeting for the faith that is in me.

I am a Republican, as the two great political parties are now divided, because the Republican party is a National party, seeking the greatest good of the greatest number of her citizens. There is not a precinct in this vast nation where a Democrat cannot cast his ballot and have it counted as cast no matter what the predominance of the opposite party. He can proclaim his political opinions, even if he is only one among a thousand, without fear and without proscription on account of his opinions. There are fourteen States, and localities in some others where Republicans have not this privilege. This is one reason why I am a Republican.

But I am a Republican for many other reasons. The Republican party assures protection to life, property, public credit, and the payment of the debts of the government, state, county, or municipality so far as it can control. The Democratic party does not promise this. If it does it has broken its promises to the extent of hundreds of millions, as many Northern Democrats can testify to their sorrow.

I am a Republican as between existing parties because it fosters the production of the field and farm and of manufactories and it encourages the general education of the poor as well as the rich. The Democratic party discourages all these when in absolute power.

The Republican party is a party of progress and of liberality toward its opponent. It encourages the poor to strive to better their condition, the ignorant to educate their children, to enable them to compete successfully with their more fortunate associates, and, in fine, it secures an entire equality before the law of every citizen no matter what his race, nationality or previous condition. It tolerates no privileged class. Every one has the opportunity to make himself all he is capable of.

Ladies and gentlemen, do you believe this can be truthfully said in the greater part of fourteen of the states of the Union to-day whom the Democratic party control absolutely?

The Republican party is a party of principles, the same principles prevailing wherever it has a foothold. The Democratic party is united but in one thing, and that is in getting control of the government in all its branches. It is for internal improvement at the expense of the government in one section, and against this in another. It favors the repudiation of solemn obligations in one section, and honest payment of its debts in another (where public opinion will not tolerate any other view). It favors fiat money in one place and good money in another. Finally it favors the pooling of all issues not favored by Republicans, to the end that it may secure the one principle upon which the party is a most harmonious unit—namely: Gaining control of the government in all its branches.

I have been in some part of every state lately in the rebellion, within the last year. I was most hospitably received at every place where I stopped. My receptions were not by the Union class alone, but by all classes without distinction. I had a free talk with many who were against us in the war and who have been against the Republican party ever since. They were in all instances reasonable men judged by what they said. I believed then and now, that they sincerely want a break up in this "solid South" political condition. They see that it is to their pecuniary interest as well as to their happiness, that there should be harmony and confidence between all sections. They want to break away from the slavery which binds them to a party name. They want a pretext that enough of them can unite upon to make it respectable. Once started the solid South will go as Ku Kluxism did before, and is so admirably told by Judge Tourgee in his Fool's Errand. When the break comes those who start it will be astonished to find how many of their friends have been in favor of it for a long time, and have only been waiting to see some one take the lead.

This desirable solution can only be attained by the defeat and continued defeat of the Democratic party, as now constituted.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

ELEVENTH BIENNIAL SESSION

SPECIALLY REPORTED AND TELEGRAPHED TO THE OREGONIAN.

Senate.

SALEM, Oct. 15, 1880.

The reading of the journal was dispensed with.

Message from the governor stating that since the adjournment of the legislative assembly two years ago vacancies have occurred in the board of regents of the university. That of B. F. Dorris by expiration April 1, 1879, and that of George Humphrey by resignation April 8, 1879. In pursuance of section 7 of "An act for the support and government of the university," approved Oct. 14, 18[illegible], I did on the 8th day of April 1879 appoint B. F. Dorris to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of his term and E. R. Geary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Humphrey and respectfully ask that such appointments be confirmed.

Knight moved to lay the governor's message on the table. Lost.

B. 118 to define the duties and fix the compensation of the clerk of the board of commissioners for the sale of school and university lands and for investment of the funds arising therefrom, was ordered engrossed, and amended salary of clerk from $1500 to $1200.

McConnell was opposed to reconsidering the vote and reviewed the different positions on the question in a strong and forcible manner.

Humphrey also opposed the motion.

Simon moved to reconsider the vote by which it was amended, the motion prevailed.

On motion of Smith the vote by which the amendment to the amendment was lost was reconsidered.

On motion the bill was ordered engrossed and passed to third reading.

WAYS AND MEANS.

Apperson presented a majority report favorably on S. B. 119, to assist in the propagation of salmon and other food fish in the waters of the state.

Cochran of same committee submitted a minority report recommending that the bill do not pass and moved that it be adopted.

Apperson moved to accept the majority report.

Haines moved to lay on the table, lost.

Apperson moved to engross and pass to third reading.

The chair ruled that a motion to engross was already before the house and takes precedence over the motion to adopt the minority report.

Cochran appealed from the decision of the chair. On a vote the decision of the chair was sustained.

Ordered engrossed and passed to third reading.

GEN. GRANT IN BOSTON.

He Makes a Speech Setting Forth in Strong and Intelligent Way the Advantages that Would Arise from Fostering Trade with Mexico.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BOSTON, Oct. 14—General Grant [illegible] Middlesex club [illegible]. We are a nation that [illegible] all power is with the people. Our [illegible] having [illegible] extend to them [illegible] theory that power rests with the government and that the people have no rights, no privileges whatever, except as they are extended by the crown. It is impossible that on that theory such self reliance [illegible] as our people show can be created after a lapse of great time.

I found Mexico a country which I had visited a good many years ago, just on the eve of a great advance, and very desirous to extend their foreign commerce. A portion of the thinking people were alarmed a little at the approach of American population and American railroads on their borders, but they were fully alive to the necessity and importance of railroads in their own country. They consulted with me very freely and very confidentially, I may say pretty much all the time I was there and I did and said all I could to allay all their apprehensions of danger of the approach of the universal Yankee. They have a very lively recollection of the Mexican war which resulted in such a loss of territory. From occasional loose remarks in newspapers and by individuals they are afraid that the approach of Yankee and American enterprise and railroads means the sloughing off of this or that state. I assured them, they need have no apprehension that at all events if there is any danger at all the best way to allay it was to cultivate the best and most intimate commercial relations between the two republics. [Applause.] If they tried to keep aloof from us and benefit European nations by their trade, to the exclusion of the United States they made enemies of their neighbors. I told them that was not good policy. Their apprehensions were well founded twenty years ago because at that time we had an institution never sustained except where it existed and that it could not exist in any country longer than it could retain political control, hence territory where slavery could be planted was necessary to the existence of that institution and of course while slavery existed they were constantly in danger of their territory being wanted to give slaveholders political influence and supremacy in Washington. But now that that institution was dead, never to be revived, we were a people of homogeneous institutions from one end of the country to the other, and there was no political advantage accruing to any political party by accession of territory in any particular direction, and I believed it was almost the universal sentiment of our people that we wanted no territory we had to filibuster for; that if we acquired territory it would have to be with the consent of the people occupying that territory and our own consent. [Cries of "Good," and applause.] It seemed very much to satisfy those with whom I talked, and they asked me to interest myself in having American capital extended to their country to build up their roads. They would aid them with right of way and free admission of material required and give liberal subsidy if they could be assured of the building of roads. There is no secret of the capacity of Mexico for production if you think about it. We now do an importation business of nearly two hundred million dollars in tropical and semi tropical products. Mexico could produce the whole of that if she had railroads to give her an outlet for her [illegible] and her people have the industry to do it, a fact not generally credited, nor did I believe it until I was there the last time. They have climate and industry and everything required to produce these tropical and semi tropical products, which as I said amount to about two hundred million dollars a year, and are increasing, as we are also increasing in products and wealth. We are now getting these products from countries where they are largely produced by slave labor. We are constantly paying into their treasuries a large amount annually for [illegible] and we give them back nothing but sterling exchange. Mexico is not only our neighbor, but she is a republic. If fostered she can produce nearly all these articles and will take in exchange what our manufacturers produce. They will take from us cotton goods, locomotives, cars and railroad iron, rolling stock, all machinery necessary to running railroads, agricultural implements, wagons, carriages, musical instruments, clocks, watches and a thousand and one other things. When we can pay for imports of our tropical products with products of our manufacture we shall benefit Mexico, benefit ourselves and continue to give employment to the multitude of people we now have and which are ever coming to our shores and all will be happier and better. I hope we are not so particularly generous as to want to benefit our neighbors at our expense. [Laughter and applause.] When we can benefit ourselves and them too, greatly, we are the most generous people in the world.

NEWS NOTES FROM SALEM

[OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT OF THE OREGONIAN.]

SALEM, Oct. 14, 1880.

The legislature will adjourn or at least their 40 days will expire on Friday next.

J. F. Williams, democrat, was this morning appointed assistant clerk in the senate by J. C. [illegible], republican chief clerk.

Wesley Graves, Esq., has taken charge of the Chemeketa Hotel once more and contemplates keeping up its well earned reputation as a hotel.

Mrs. R. P. Earhart has gone to Portland for several days visit among her friends and to attend the Mechanics Fair. She is stopping at the residence of Hon. F. N. Shurtleff.

Judge R. P. Boise and family have recently moved into their new residence in North Salem, he having purchased and thoroughly improved and repaired the property formerly owned by J. B. McClane.

Mr. and Mrs. William Savage, of this city, rejoice in the appellation of grandparents since the advent of a daughter at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. Caplinger of Centerville, Umatilla county, Ogn.

The music furnished by the Dallas brass band on the occasion of the republican torchlight procession in this city proved a genuine treat to all who heard it, the proficiency as an organization exciting the admiration of the assembled multitude.

The democracy of this county are the worse demoralized crew you ever saw since the returns from Indiana and Ohio, and have concluded to postpone a grand jollification early arranged for a few days since to be indulged in on the receipt of the election returns from these states.

The Willamette Valley and Coast Railway Company and the Oregon and Pacific Railway Company yesterday filed for record in the counties of Benton and Linn their joint trust deed to the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York, covering the franchises and property of both companies including 900,000 acres of land to secure the issuances of the companies first bonds.

The "Twenty-oners," numbering some 70 young men who on the 2d of November next will, headed by martial music, march in a body and deposit their first vote for president—for James A. Garfield—contemplate making the organization a permanent one, and sticking together at the polls in the city and county and state politics as well.

SATURDAY MORNING OCT 16 1880

NOW FOR THE FINAL EFFORT

It is probable that the democratic managers will now struggle desperately to reestablish their broken order of battle This may indeed be expected The solid south forms a force which gives them so prodigious an advantage that there is still danger But the danger is not more in democratic strength than in republican apathy What we want to say is that republicans must not yet sit down in idleness under the impression that the battle is won It was the reverse in Maine that nerved the party to the effort which has produced the results gained in Indiana and Ohio And now the victories in Indiana and Ohio must not again lull republicans into security. Let them remember that the democratic party still has the solid south with its 138 electoral votes to count on, and that only 47 are wanted from the north to make the enterprise a success For these the democratic managers will contend with the energy of desperation Upon New York their main effort will be concentrated But New York will not be enough. Should they get the empire state—which republicans by no means concede—they would still require fifteen electoral votes It devolves on the republicans of every state to see that no contribution is made toward the forty seven required to help the solid south to control of the government. Oregon will have nothing to do with this contribution, but in order that there may be no possible hope from this state no encouragement for the confederate democratic coalition, let all republicans be awake They can make the majority so large, if they will that there will really be no contest Oregon republicans can now make a larger majority than ever was gained in the state by any party We believe they are becoming thoroughly aroused and will do it. The object and effort of every republican from now till election day should be to kindle more and more the spirit which will carry this majority away up out of reach of all possible competition. Let Oregon republicans be assured that their party brethren in other states will do their whole duty, and realize that it is for them to do their whole duty here. Oregon's vote has once decided a presidential contest Perhaps it may again. Let republicans therefore see that her vote, as heretofore, is on the right side, and [illegible] gives a majority so great as to be above all dispute or question.

A DOUBLE BARRELED WAIL

The address of the democratic national committee is at once ludicrous and dismal What is it that underlies this despairing wail? It is the breaking of the last strand in the cord of partisan hope. But a wail of lamentation, a threnody, a funeral march, is hardly a thing to awaken the spirits, stiffen the sinews and summon up the blood for a renewed and enthusiastic effort Doubtless the party is in better mood to chant a requiem than to sing a pæan But it would be well, at least it would be seemly, for a party in great extremity and trembling on the verge of dissolution, to show in its utterances some semblance of truth and candor Instead of fairly accepting the verdict of the people, pronounced continuously during twenty years against a party which has been weighed in the balance and found wanting we have repetition of the assertion that this party has been beaten by fraud by intimidation, and by no end of unrighteous means, and the authors of this proclamation are not ashamed to say all this, though it is notorious that the sole assured strength of their own party is based on the fraud and violence which denies a free ballot in fourteen states of this union. And there is another jeremiad over the failure of the unhappy Mr. Tilden in 1876 They attempt to persuade the country that reform was defeated and that the principles of free government received an almost deadly blow when southern bulldozing and cipher frauds failed to carry this party into power four years ago

This proclamation may well stand as one of the curiosities of political literature. It may go into the political almanacs as one of the exclamations of wounded error, which, as the poet tells us writhes in pain as it gets these stunning blows and realizes what a hard road it has to travel. Or to put the case in a somewhat graver way, this address resembles in its circumstances the speech of one who need not be particularly named, but who will be recognized from these sonorous verses with which he concludes:

> Let us again assembling our afflicted powers
> Consult how we may henceforth most offend
> Our enemy, our own loss how repair,
> How overcome this dire calamity
> What reinforcement we may gain from hope
> If not what resolution from despair

H. W. S.

A LEADING ISSUE.

It would be hard to say which is worse in principle, the keeping of 4,000,000 men in bondage or denying to free citizens of the United States the rights solemnly guaranteed them by the constitutional amendments, and purchased by the blood of many thousands of brave soldiers. If the assertion of the equality of all American citizens before the law be sectionalism, then is the republican party sectional. Most persons, however, will see in the denial of the rights of citizenship, and the maintenance of all that was vital to the old slave days, the only real sectionalism, and this last is what constitutes the so-called southern unity If the American people generally are willing to sustain a tyrannical oligarchy of pardoned rebels in its refusal to observe the conditions of amnesty, they are more than forbearing, they are unfaithful to their own principles, and they render vain the sacrifice of the martyrs of the rebellion. So, as the Cincinnati Gazette justly says, the question at issue in the present contest is not whether this or that candidate is a suitable nominee for the presidency, or to fill a seat in congress, but whether the laws shall be obeyed and freedom be established throughout our union There is no issue as regards social equality, but there is a most vital one as regards the simplest rights of citizenship Every voter must register himself for or against a free ballot a free press, and free speech There are other matters of importance to be adjusted, but morally there is none so vital as the one which we have described A victory on the part of the southern exclusionists is a virtual nullification of all the results of the suppression of the rebellion

THE BUSINESS VIEW OF IT

Business men are satisfied with the present situation and few of them are among those who demand a change. It is this which gives the republican party its prodigious and unlooked for strength at the present time It is the factor of the campaign which makes the great state of New York sure for Garfield and Arthur, for New York city as the great commercial and business depot of the continent, has immense interest in the maintenance of financial stability and commercial prosperity Of course the enormous vote made up of an element that an organization like Tammany can wield and use for its purposes, will go democratic but the greater part of the solid business and working classes who want the present status of prosperity sustained will not go over with the party whose policy is reflected in and through the present successful administration of national affairs Note a dispatch which we publish to-day concerning the course of the business men of New York at the present time In the stock exchange the republicans outnumber the democrats three to one and large numbers who have hitherto voted the democratic ticket have now joined republican clubs The democratic majority in the metropolis will be so held down that the republican majority of the interior of the state will easily overcome it and the same influence which has wrought such effects in Ohio and Indiana, and is likewise at work in New York will carry the states of Connecticut and New Jersey also The business issue is a most important one

Immediately after the nomination of General Hancock democratic papers all over the country congratulated the party on the fact that union soldiers heretofore republicans would flock to the Hancock standard for the reason that the great leader of the union armies General Grant, would support Hancock—support him quietly perhaps but very efficiently All this was assumed on the ground that General Grant was sore and disappointed because he did not receive the nomination at Chicago and because being a soldier himself he would naturally prefer a man of his order in the presidential chair These gentlemen were never more mistaken in their lives. If they had let General Grant alone it is not at all unlikely that he would have remained comparatively silent during the campaign But they were determined to bring him out They succeeded The result is that Gen Grant's utterances though brief have done more damage to Hancock and the democratic cause than the utterances of any other man—perhaps half dozen men—in the country In another place we print conspicuously his speech at Warren Ohio which sums up in brief space the chief reasons why General Garfield should be elected and does it with a clearness and force unsurpassed by any utterance of the campaign

---

The democratic national committee, in their inconsolable distress, declare that they will never never condone the elections in Ohio and Indiana And feeling assured of the support of the solid south, no matter what is said or done they try to fire the northern democratic heart by an allusion to Gettysburg! But this will not create any democratic enthusiasm in either section of the union It is a reminder to the southern democracy of a bloody defeat, and to the northern democracy that they bitterly condemned the war It will hardly be forgotten that just after this 'glorious victory of Gettysburg" which the democratic committee now pretend to glorify, the democratic party in national convention assembled declared the war a "failure," called for cessation of hostilities and proposed to give the fruits of the victory away That the democratic party took this course in relation to the war is a fact which Gen. Hancock's candidacy cannot possibly condone, even though he served at Gettysburg. The country is not voting on Gen Hancock's military record, but on the general record of the democratic party

In their address the democratic national committee say that the republican party has put in nomination men who are unworthy of the confidence and suffrages of the people Never mind all that The thing which should trouble the democratic managers is that their party is found unworthy of the confidence and suffrages of the people More editorial and oratorical flatulency has been expended on 'Credit Mobilier' and 'De Golyer' than all the winds Æolus ever let loose and the subject is as stale as the history of poor Sammy Tilden's grievous disappointments to which the committee also pathetically refer.

In a complaint filed in the circuit court on the 8th day of June, 1880 sworn to by William Reid, occurs this statement following a description of the city levee, 'That the city of Portland is the owner of said premises in fee simple With the warranty deed from Mr J Gaston, and the sworn statement from Mr Reid that the property belongs to the city, it would seem that the company they represent ought to be estopped from denying the city a title

Sammy Tilden knew how to make a better fight than the men who are running the Hancock campaign He held Indiana in October and reduced the republican majority in Ohio to a very low figure. And he knew how to make a better fight in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut than they are capable of making As an organizer the figurer of cipher alley was rarely equaled and never exceeded.

It is intended that the republican demonstration here on Tuesday night shall be the grandest affair that ever took place in Oregon Half-fare rates have been secured from all points on the railroads Now that the spirit of Oregon republicans is up they are getting ready for the biggest parade ever witnessed here. It will be so great an affair that the opposition will abandon all thought of rivaling it.

Now that it is proven that Kentucky negroes have been over into Indiana and Ohio and bullied the hundreds of thousands of democratic freemen there, it can hardly be said that the liberties of the country are in a healthy or hopeful condition. One can hardly wonder that the democratic committee is issuing lugubrious addresses and taking a despairing view of things in general.

It now appears that the democratic managers are ready to take either or both sides of the tariff question in order to win It is a little late for experiments of that kind

The principles for which Lee and Jackson fought four years are not approved in Ohio and Indiana

SATURDAY MORNING, OCT. 16 1880.

CITY.

Cavalry Brigade.—The cavalry brigade, which has already been organized for the purpose of joining in the republican torchlight procession on Tuesday evening, is making extensive arrangements with a view to making that one of the attractive features of the procession. It is expected, from present indications, that from 200 to 300 men on horseback, with becoming dress, will join in the procession, carrying torchlights. A general invitation is extended to all persons who wish to join in the procession on horseback. A meeting will be held on Monday evening for the purpose of making final arrangements, due notice of the place of which will be given hereafter. We understand that a similar brigade is being formed in East Portland for the purpose of joining the procession. For further particulars see notice elsewhere.

Deeds of Trust.—The Salem Statesman says: "We are informed that deeds of trust are being recorded in all the counties through which the Willamette valley and Cascades mountain military wagon road runs, for all the franchises and property rights of the W. V. & C. R. R. Co., the Oregon P. C. R. R. Co., together with the land grant of over 9,000,000 acres which were granted to the above companies. The said deeds are made in favor of the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York."

Requested to Meet.—All persons who are desirous of joining the cavalry brigade for the republican torchlight procession on Tuesday evening are requested to make it known by calling or sending notice to the office of Moreland & Tanner, No. 160 First street, on or before Monday evening. Due notice of time and place of forming in procession will be given hereafter. All persons who are willing to furnish themselves with a horse and saddle are invited to join the brigade.

Veto No. 2.—The new ferry boat which is to run between Vancouver and the Oregon shore, belonging to Foster & Co., will be named Veto No. 2. The boat is now all completed except a little painting, and has been waiting inspection and papers for more than a week, which could not be obtained by reason of the absence from the city of the inspectors. It is probable that the boat will be ready to go into service by Monday next.

Meeting at Oregon City.—Last night the republicans had an immense meeting at Oregon City. It was addressed by Hon. J. F. Caples. Thirty-eight guns were fired at the beginning of the demonstration and twenty-five at the close. Mr. Caples' speech awakened the greatest enthusiasm. A large number who had not hitherto signed the roll added their names. Republicans of Clackamas are exhibiting splendid energy.

Taken Back.—The deputy sheriff of Clackamas county came down Thursday from Oregon City and took the Celestials, Ah Goon and Ah Lay, who were arrested on Wednesday evening in this city. These fellows, it will be remembered entered the residence of Hon. W. Carey Johnson at Oregon City, and took therefrom a number of articles of clothing. They are certain to become boarders at the hotel de [illegible]

PORTLAND'S GREAT FAIR.

EIGHTH DAY.

There is no abatement in the attendance or interest in the fair. The crowds increase nightly as the week progresses, and the pavilion will not more than comfortably hold to-night's audience. We would suggest to the ladies that afternoons furnish better opportunities for thorough examinations of handiwork and the art exhibit. The usual promenade concert and matinee will take place from 2 to 5 this afternoon. The electric light and electric engine, located near the main engine in machinery hall, are objects of much admiration and surprise. Two of the lamps are on the gallery railing, opposite the fountain, and casting their peculiar white light on the ever falling spray, give the waters the appearance of silver drops.

BRUNSWICK & BALKE CO.'S BILLIARD TABLE.

The table exhibited by this company on the main floor near the fountain attracts much attention from lovers of billiards. It is of ebony, inlaid with rose and white oriental woods. It is furnished with "Monarch" cushions similar to the new tables at the Esmond parlors, which have become very popular with the local knights of the cue. They also show a handsome black walnut cue rack, Eastlake pattern, with twelve finely finished cues. The outfit, including a special carpet, is the finest ever shown here. The Brunswick & Balke Co.'s business in this state and Washington territory has increased to such an extent that they have found it necessary to establish an agency in this city. Their office is located at 23 First street, New Market Block, and is in charge of Mr. E. P. Bragdon. Mr. Bragdon is also in attendance at the pavilion every evening to give information to all interested.

THE BUENA VISTA POTTERY.

The exhibit of pottery by Mr. A. M. Smith, proprietor of the works at Buena Vista, Polk county, although occupying probably the most unattractive space in the pavilion, is every afternoon and evening surrounded by more visitors than are able to get a good look at the workman engaged in shaping the various articles. Mr. Smith has set a good example for other exhibitors, and has demonstrated that the average visitor takes more interest in seeing goods made than looking at them after they are done. Mr. Smith makes a specialty of sewer pipes, and they have been found after long trial to be of such durability and general excellence that they are now exclusively used in city sewers, and for railroad drainage wherever practicable. Other specialties of the pottery works are fruit, pickle and milk jars, jugs, flower pots and lawn ornaments. Mr. Smith's Portland office and warehouse is located at 209 Front street, between Madison and Jefferson.

FRANK BROTHERS' EXHIBIT.

Frank Brothers, the well known dealers in agricultural implements, have an exhibit at the Mechanics' Fair which does much credit and contributes much to the interest of those who enjoy the industrial features of the fair. The display is not without elements of art for the implements and machines are marked by perfection of mechanical work and excellent taste in finish and decoration. The firm occupies larger floor space and their exhibit is proportionately replete with valuable material.

The leading implement on exhibition is the Walter A. Wood's new string binding harvester. It is one of the newest triumphs of invention in the ingathering of crops. It cuts, gathers and binds the grain, leaving it in bundles ready to be stacked or taken to the thresher. The material used is twine instead of wire, which was first used and found objectionable to threshers and millers. This machine is shown at the fair with the binding appliance in operation, and visitors stand longing to see the mechanism gather the grain and tie its own knot. It works like a charm, and many of our readers will doubtless enjoy a brief description of its methods.

The operation of the binder is entirely automatic, and may be described as follows: As the grain enters the receptacle it is acted on by a packer and held by a compressed lever until sufficient has been accumulated to form a bundle of required size; the compressing lever then recedes, throwing the packer out of gear and the binding mechanism into gear; the binding arm then passes the band around the bundle, the knot is tied and the twine cut—one end being securely retained, the binding arm then recedes, and a discharging arm gently but effectually delivers the bound bundle clear of the machine.

The twine binding harvester has been somewhat introduced into Oregon fields during the present harvest, and it has given most general satisfaction. It is regarded by many farmers as a solution of many vexed questions in grain gathering, and it bids fair to supersede the header, which is a useful machine. Farmers can commence cutting grain with the harvester quite three weeks before the header knife can touch it. Secondly, the large saving of grain; everywhere it being well known by every farmer using a header that at times the waste is enormous. Thirdly that the crop when cut by the harvester, bound, stacked and allowed to ripen and dry, every grain can be got out by the thresher, and this is not because when it is cut by the header, and at times allowed to heat in the stack.

Frank Brothers exhibit also contains other famous machines of Walter A. Wood's manufacture, which are also in motion, and their mechanism thus perfectly shown. One is Wood's new sweeping rake reaper, with five rakes controlled by automatic gears. Notable among the features peculiar to this machine are the controllability of the rakes, quality of work, ease of management, and adaptation to all kinds and conditions of grain. Another standard machine is the Walter A. Wood's enclosed gear mower, which has been used three seasons, and has become very popular. It combines the best qualities of the "celebrated Walter A. Wood iron frame mower," with many new and advantageous features entirely peculiar to itself. Its superior cutting qualities, adaptation to all conditions of grass and surface, lightness of draft and steadiness of operation have been fully demonstrated.

In addition to the harvesting machinery, Frank Brothers have a full line of plows of most beautiful construction and finish, including the sulky gang and single plows made by B. D. Bradford & Co., of Rock Island, Ill. They have also riding and walking cultivators, harrows and road scrapers. Noticeable also is the La Belle wagons, made especially for Oregon use, with Oregon roller brake, side boards and spring seats—a most complete teaming vehicle. Farmers thinking of purchasing anything in the machinery line should call on Frank Brothers or send for the catalogue.

THE PRESIDENT AT ASTORIA.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Astoria, Oct. 15.—The Wide West left Kalama at 6:30 this morning, but a heavy fog soon came up and she stopped some time at Cathlamet. Astoria was reached at 11:20. A boat lay alongside as the Wide West approached the city, putting on board the committee of welcome. Several hundred people were on the dock and cheered enthusiastically as the president stepped ashore. The party went immediately to the Occident Hotel, passing through files of school children and under a beautiful arch bearing the word welcome. Upon arrival at the hotel a large number of ladies of the city greeted and welcomed Mrs. Hayes and the ladies of the party. An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor D. C. Ireland and the president, secretary Ramsey, and Gen. Sherman followed with addresses to the crowd. The president said that he had been reminded by the mayor that government aid was needed to render the Columbia at all times navigable. Referring to a dispatch just received that the Columbia was aground and hence the party would be delayed, he said there was certainly evidence that aid was needed from somewhere. He spoke of the importance of the Columbia river to commerce and said that when the facts were known in the east the aid so much needed and desired would, he had no doubt be willingly granted. The rest of his speech was devoted to matters discussed in former speeches and previously reported. The party immediately reboarded the Wide West and steamed down the bay to Fort Canby, where commander Graham and his officers tendered a cordial greeting. After a visit to the lighthouse the party went to Fort Stevens on the Oregon side, commanded by Major Throckmorton, who with his wife joined them at Astoria. At 6 o'clock the party were entertained at a citizens dinner at the Occident. They will spend the night on board the Wide West which will lie here till the Columbia arrives to-night.

THE REMAINS OF THE UNKNOWN MAN WHO WAS DROWNED FOUND—HIS IDENTITY STILL A MYSTERY—CORONER'S VERDICT.

Soon after the steamer Columbia left her dock yesterday morning and started down the river, the body of the poor unfortunate fellow who fell from the wharf Thursday evening and was drowned, was recovered. Coroner Garnold was notified and caused the body to be removed to the morgue. On examining the remains the coroner found a copy of Thursday's Oregonian in his coat pocket, $10 in silver, a handkerchief, a package of tobacco and a package of cigarette paper. He had on a business suit of clothing and overcoat, is 5 feet 3 inches in height, smooth shaven, light auburn hair, and about 22 years of age. About 350 persons have visited the morgue, but none have recognized him by name.

Tuesday evening the young man went into the Norton House with a friend and took a cigar, when he said he was going to the steamer. The driver of the house coach asked him to ride down but he said he preferred to walk.

Last evening an inquest was held, but nothing could be ascertained by the examination which threw any light on the question of the person's identity. After making what investigation they could, the jury returned the following verdict:

We, the jury, find that the deceased was aged 22 or 23 years, and unknown, and that he came to his death by accidental drowning, caused by the criminal neglect of the warehouse and dock company to properly light their dock and erect sufficient safe guards thereon.

Wm. A. Daly, John Donovan, T. P. Hope, J. G. Dortner, T. F. O'Mara, John Phelan.

In the hope that some one may identify the body, Coroner Garnold will keep the remains until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

POLITICAL.

J. C. Moreland, Esq., addressed the citizens of Tualatin precinct, Clackamas county, Thursday evening at Meridian school house. The meeting was large and very enthusiastic.

Responses have already been received from outside republican clubs and individuals, promising their presence in Portland next Tuesday evening to participate in the monster torchlight procession.

Sheriff Buchtel, who came down from Salem yesterday, says that several prominent republicans of that city desire him, if possible, to procure from the committee at least 200 torches for next Tuesday evening. They informed him that not less than 200 republicans would come down on that evening to participate in the grand rally. It was said that if arrangements were effected, by which a train could return to Salem that night at the close of the demonstration, a much larger number would visit Portland.

A correspondent sends the following in regard to the republican meeting at Mount Zion:

Tuesday evening, Hon. H. H. Northup of Portland, addressed the Garfield and Arthur club of Mount Zion. He stated in the course of his remarks it to be the duty of every American citizen to sustain the best party and the best men; that men and parties are to be judged by their past history, and not by their present promises. His brief, but truthful review of the records of the respective parties now contending for power; his short account of his own experience in the southern states; his description of General Hancock's stupid conduct during his administration of the affairs of the department of the gulf, during which period the most frightful and cruel reign of terror was inaugurated ever known in christendom, and his triumphant acquittal of Gen. Garfield of all charges of fraud and corruption, both by the testimony of leading democrats and by Gen. Garfield's long, eminent and spotless career, as a public servant, produced a most lively rattling among the dry bones of the democracy present.

COL. HAWKINS AT FOREST GROVE

Forest Grove, Oct. 14, 1880.

One of the largest audiences ever assembled in this city greeted Col. Hawkins this evening at Vert's Liberal Hall. The colonel made one of the most effective speeches of the campaign, holding the audience over two hours while he presented the issues. He showed the financial record of the two parties, much to the advantage of the republican party, dwelling at length on the repudiation of the southern state debts.

Taking as a self-evident truth that secession was a crime, he dealt the rebel (democratic) party of the south some terrible blows. He paid particular attention to the northern wing of the party, which declared the war a failure after the nation had broken the back of the southern confederacy.

Special interest in the speaker himself was manifested because he was one of a small band of patriots in the south who stood by the flag in its hour of peril. All honor is due to the men of east Tennessee who stood firmly by the union while their neighbors on every side were drawn into the vortex of rebellion. The voices from the graves of his murdered father and brothers impelled him to swear eternal hatred to the principles that caused the war of the rebellion. His devotion to the union while his neighbors were entering the southern confederacy, renders it peculiarly fitting that he should dwell at length on the results of the war. Col. Hawkins had fine opportunities to test the real animus of the south against the union and as a consequence his arguments have the more weight.

Can it be possible that while the class of citizens so well represented by the colonel remain true to the national idea, their comrades in arms from the north are willing to surrender that idea in '80. Can it be possible that the principles that cost this nation so dear in '60, are to be surrendered to the solid south in '80.

Col. Hawkins returns home to his native state of Tennessee to vote for president, knowing full well that he and his party are disfranchised by the southern democrats. Here is a moral. A brave soldier who fought for the union is voiceless in choosing the chief magistrate of this republic, while his neighbor who fought against the union can cast his vote and have it counted for the party of his choice. This seems like mockery if the nation was worth preserving.

The citizens of this town unfurled the flag (not the southern rag) to the breeze, amid the enthusiasm of the citizens. It seems that the people have a clear idea of the nature of this contest. That it is between the national ideas of the north as opposed to the southern idea of state rights, and that they propose to stay by the union and the north.

A brief mention is due to the glee club which is doing a good work in this campaign. Music at political meetings is peculiar to the republicans here. Think of the peace democrats of the north singing "We Are Coming Father Abram with Six Hundred Thousand More."

In '60, they hung their harps on the willows, because they were in a strange land. In '80, they will bury their harps beneath the willows, because the land will know them no more.

SHOULD BE ABATED.

Portland, Oct. 15, 1880.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

About three months ago the sewer leading from the Thompson House on Jefferson street to the river became stopped and the swills found an outlet into Front street, causing an intolerable stench and mud hole, extending from Jefferson to Madison streets. We have called the attention of the authorities to it frequently; have sent in written complaints to the chief of police; have complained to the mayor, and to the disgrace of the city, it still remains a foul, stinking mud hole, endangering the health and incommoding every one who is compelled to come in contact with it.

This complaint is reluctantly made, hoping that it may stimulate those who can to give us some relief.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Some of Farrow's scouts wish to thank your paper for informing them through an editorial paragraph in last Monday's issue as to why they were ordered home when on the point of attacking a camp of hostile Indians. From a military point of view perhaps it was none of their business, but for all that, it is human for even scouts and soldiers to have some curiosity in their compositions, and after marching back some 700 miles The Oregonian gave the first information in regard to why Lieut. Farrow was not allowed to lead his men against the enemy.

AN HISTORICAL REMINDER.

How the South used to Control the Government before the War—And the Results of It

[illegible] the [illegible] exact from a speech [illegible] saying [illegible] falling [illegible] afterwards went [illegible] his state as well [illegible]

[illegible] step—a rash [illegible] can [illegible] will inevitably provoke when our green fields [illegible] harvests shall be trodden down by [illegible] soldiery and the fiery car of war [illegible] temples of [illegible] horror and desolation [illegible] this convention will be held responsible [illegible] this suicidal act by the present generation and [illegible] cursed and execrated by posterity in all coming time * * * Pause I entreat you and consider for a moment what reasons you [illegible] that [illegible] satisfy yourselves in calmer moments What right has the north assailed? What interest of the south has been invaded? What justice has been denied? Can any of you name to-day one governmental act of wrong deliberately and purposely done by the government at Washington of which the south has a right to complain? I challenge an answer On the other hand let me show the facts of which I wish you to judge and I will only state facts which are clear and undeniable and which now stand in the [illegible] records of the history of the country When we of the south demanded the slave trade did they not yield the right for twenty years? When we asked a three-fifths representation in congress for our section was it not granted? When we demanded the return of any fugitive from justice or the recovery of those persons owing labor or allegiance was it not incorporated in the constitution and again ratified and strengthened in the fugitive slave law of 1850? Do you reply that in many instances they have violated this compact? As individuals and local communities they may have done so but not by the sanction of the government, for that has always been true to southern interests When we asked that more territory should be added that we might spread the institution of slavery did they not yield to our demands in giving us Louisiana Florida and Texas out of which four states have been carved and ample territory left for four more to be added in due time if you by this unwise and impolitic act do not destroy this hope and perhaps by it lose all and have your last slave wrenched from you by stern military rule or by the vindictive decree of a universal emancipation, which may reasonably be expected to follow? We have always had the control of the government and can yet have if we remain in it and are united as we have been We have had a majority of the presidents chosen from the south as well as the control and management of those chosen from the north We have had sixty years of southern presidents to their twenty four, thus controlling the executive department So of the judges of the supreme court We have had eighteen from the south and but eleven from the north Although nearly four fifths of the judicial business has arisen in the free states yet a majority of the court has always been from the south This we have required so as to guard against any interpretation of the constitution unfavorable to us * * * * * In choosing the presiding officer, pro tem. of the senate we have had twenty four and they eleven Speakers of the house we have had twenty-three, they twelve While the majority of the representatives, from their greater population have always been from the north, yet we have generally secured the speaker because he to a great extent shapes and controls the legislation of the country Nor have we had less control in every other department of the general government Attorney generals we have had fourteen while the north have had but five Foreign ministers we have had eighty-six and they but fifty four While three-fourths of the business which demands diplomatic agents abroad is clearly from the free states because of their greater commercial interests we have nevertheless had the principal embassies so as to secure the world markets for our cotton, tobacco and sugar on the best possible terms We have had a vast majority of the higher officers of both army and navy while a larger proportion of the soldiers and sailors were drawn from the north Equally so of clerks, auditors and comptrollers filling the executive department The records show for the last fifty years that of the 3000 thus employed, we have had more than two-thirds while we have only one third of the white population of the republic * * * From official documents we learn that more than three-fourths of the revenue collected has uniformly been raised from the north * * * * * * * * The expense of the transportation of the mails in the free states was in 1860 a little over $13 000 000 while the income was $19 000,000 But in the slave states the transportation of mail was $14 716 000 and the revenue from the mail only $8 000,265 leaving a deficit of $6 715 735 to be supplied by the north for our accommodation

In the local wheat market little is doing The dead lock on one side, viz. shipowners demanding more than shippers can pay and on the other side indisposition of holders to sell at market rates, has not been removed Wheat may be quoted to-day at $1 40@1 42½ per cental for good to choice valley

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK Oct 15 —With but one line of ships on berth there is very little of interest to note in freighting business via Cape Horn as there is entire absence of competition still, on the whole, there is fair business doing As the season is well along, shippers seem to hold back and are awaiting action of the railroad people who are disposed to be more lenient in regard to the isthmus route, and seem to be willing to make contracts for certain classes of goods by that route but whether it is done to take shippers from clippers or to head off any contracts that might be made with the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad is the question Rates are nominally unchanged but $8 per ton for freight is a fair quotation although lots of iron have been placed at $7 The lighthouse board have a thousand tons of coal for shipment to Yerba Buena, and rates for transportation have been made at $8 per ton

Provisions—Nominal

Refined Sugar—Slow and prices steady

Hides—Very quiet.

Turpentine—Excited and 2c higher

Petroleum—Quiet and very firm

Hops—Good demand for prime 1879 at 24@25c

FREIGHTS AND CHARTERS AT SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 15 —A strong effort has been made to break the freight market on account of the heavy arrivals of the past fortnight but thus far the attempt has been unsuccessful While the tonnage accumulation has been sufficient to stop spot business for the moment, holders have shown no disposition to yield and asking rates for wooden ships are now quite as high as at any time during the season. It is true that exporters are pretty well supplied with tonnage at present and evince little desire to take up more ships But in the absence of business and in view of the firmness displayed by holders no change can be reported in market Ships under engagement are obtaining excellent dispatch and the chartered list is being steadily reduced by clearance of loaded vessels. This state of affairs will continue and it is a question of but a short time when vessels will be needed to supply vacancies Wilmington is beginning to attract some attention as a loading point this year as the southern part of the state has considerable wheat to export Two vessels are now loading wheat there for Europe At the close there is some inquiry for tonnage and one vessel has been taken at private rates Three vessels arrived late yesterday afternoon, two of which were under engagement to load wheat Latest charters reported are bark Colusa, 1129 tons, wheat to Cork U K private British bark Stuart 891 tons wheat to Liverpool £3 3s or Cork U K £3 4s Prior to arrival, British ship Parthenia, 1381 tons wheat Cork U K £3

WICKED FOR CLERGYMEN.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines, but when a really meritorious article is made up of common valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use I will not be without them

45 Years Before the Public.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis or Liver Complaint

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs increases on pressure sometimes the pain is in the left side the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax the head is troubled with pain accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part There is generally a considerable loss of memory accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant The patient complains of weariness and debility, he is easily startled his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin, his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it In fact he distrusts every remedy Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged

AGUE AND FEVER

DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signature of C McLANE and FLEMING BROS on the wrappers

Insist upon having the genuine DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS prepared by Fleming Bros of Pittsburgh Pa, the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH.

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.
